

From Editor:

We are pleased to announce the launch of twelfth issue of International Journal of Humanities and Educational Research specifically dedicated to Humanities and Educational Research. We hope that readers will find the published articles as informative as we found it to be.

Our journal is committed to shoulder the responsibility to encourage Humanities and Educational Research, not only by building a worldwide bridges and bonds among researchers, but also by granting Humanities and Educational sciences researchers equal opportunities for serving humanity and finding solutions for its problems.

One of the objectives of this journal is to encourage publication from various contexts addressing different issues dealing with an applied perspective to the field of Humanities and Educational Research. We therefore would like to welcome submissions to discuss the latest developments in the field of Humanities and Educational Research for the future issues of IJHER.
